Bob --

This is, I believe, a solid estimate that in essence is true to its TOR. Graham and I see the desirability of elaborating on two areas, however. We feel it may be useful to incorporate in the Key Judgments: a sentence on the lack of Soviet influence in [] oil policy decisions, and the possible [] strategy to deal with a case where the DI's "muddle through" scenario does not materialize. Tracking changes would be made in the main text. NIO/ECON believes that on these issues, it will be most useful to solicit community views and that both can be incorporated at interagency coordination. Rather than delay the paper, I am forwarding it to you and the NFIB Reps now.
